CURE FOR WORMS.
B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge.
IN consequence of the many attempts to circulate counterfeit medicines, in the name and after the manner of my Vermifuge, I have thought it but just to the public, as well as to sustain the high reputation which the genuine article has acquired, to take such steps as would effectually prevent the success of such reckless imposition; for that purpose, I have, at much expense, obtained a steel plate engraving, representing a mother in the act of administering the medicine to her ailing child, while a boy, restored to full health, stands at her elbow. This vignette, impressed on white paper, is so skillfully executed as to secure it from attempts at counterfeiting, and will, after the 1st of October, 1840, be substituted for the yellow wrapper in which the vermifuge has heretofore appeared; and, as a still further security, a copy right has been obtained and entered according to act of Congress.

PORTABLE BOAT LINE,

FOR TRANSPORTATION OF GOODS
Between Philadelphia & Pittsburgh.
PROPRIETORS:
Peter Shoenberger, John D. Davis, G. & J. H. Shoenberger, John M'Faden, } Pittsburgh.
James M. Davis, Philadelphia.
THE Line, having completed their arrangements for the ensuing year, are now prepared to receive any produce destined for the East, and Merchandize intended to be forwarded West, on opening of the Canal.
From several years' experience, and the constant increasing patronage which this line has received, the proprietors feel warranted in assuring the public that every satisfaction will be rendered to all who may entrust business to their care.
Their plan of carrying goods will be found superior to any other mode. The boats, with their whole cargoes, are transferred from the Canal to Rail Road, and run the entire distance between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, without the removal of a single package, from the time it is placed in the boat, at one point, until it reaches the warehouse, at the other. (This is peculiar to this line alone.) Thus avoiding all transhipments, and risk of separating lots, or detention of packages, on the rout.
The peculiar constructionof their boats also very much decreases the risk of damage to goods by accident; and being of light draught, are enabled to perform their trips in six days.
Goods consigned to the following Agents will be forwarded, without delay, and upon as reasonable terms, and within as short time, as by any other line.
☞All freight and charges paid on consignments.

PARIS' SOOTHING SYRUP
How many thousands of Little Children die annually from the effects of PROTRACTED DENTITION.
IT requires no argument to convince you that all 'LITTLE CHILDREN' suffer sooner or later from the effects of TEETHING, which their kind protectors may easily perceive, from the following symptoms—restlessness, sudden fits of crying, fretful, feverish, and sleeps but little, thrusts its fingers into its mouth and bites, thereby seeming to obtain relief, frequently attended with cough, difficulty of breathing, bowel complaint, inflammation of the eyes, and sores behind the ears, convulsions, &c. Those who have the care of these 'little ones' should never be without 'Dr. Paris' Celebrated American Soothing Syrup,' for Children Cutting Teeth, by which they can prevent many alarming symptoms, which often prove fatal.
Thousands of mothers and nurses can testify to the immediate effects of this invaluable Syrup, when applied to the gums. If a child wakes with pain in its gums, the Syrup, when applied, gives immediate ease, by 'opening the pores,' and healing the gums, thus preventing convulsions, &c., to the happiness and enjoyment of their kind protectors.

Dr. Leroy's Female Pills.
THE celebrity which these invaluable Pills have attained throughout Europe and the United States could never have been secured, unless the article was all that was claimed for it, as a Medicine peculiarly adapted to the cure of diseases incident to the Female sex. The inventor of these Pills, a French Physician of considerable eminence, spent thirty years of his life in the discovery of a medicine that would effectually remove most, if not all, of the diseases to which females are liable; and in the unparalleled success of these Pills, in the permanent cure or positive relief of more than Five Hundred Thousand Females, is the best evidence that his labor was not in vain. These Pills, when taken according to the directions, remove those morbid secretions which, when retained, soon induce a number of diseases, which oftentimes render Females unhappy and miserable all their lives. They immediately create a new and healthy action throughout the whole system, by Purifying the Blood, and giving Strength to the stomach and bowels, at the same time removing pain in the side, back and loins, and giving appetite, and invigorating and restoring the system to its proper, unctions, and inducing tranquil repose.
This Medicine is sold ONLY at NO. 19, NORTH EIGHTH STREET, PHILADELPHIA, and by CURTISS & CO., General Agents, ST. CLAIR STREET OPPOSITE THE EXCHANGE HOTEL, PITTSBURGH, PA.
Also, Dr. Swayne's Vermifuge.

PITTSBURGH DAILY AMERICAN.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON, JUNE 1, 1841.

☞ For Business Cards, see first page.

☞ An extended List of Prices Current will be found on our first page, carefully corrected on Friday of each week, for our Country Paper, with occasional notices of daily changes through the week—upon which persons at a distance may rely, as giving a true state of the market in our city.

TO THE MERCHANTS, MANUFACTURERS, MECHANICS, AND PROFESSIONAL GENTLEMEN OF PITTSBURGH AND ALLEGHENY.

Gentlemen—

The publisher of the PITTSBURGH DAILY AMERICAN begs leave to call your attention to the following reduced rates of advertising BUSINESS CARDS, which have been adopted in order to encourage an increase of this description of advertising, and thereby present a better view of the business of our city to the public, both at home and abroad, to wit:

BUSINESS CARDS, FIVE LINES OR LESS.

In Daily Paper, one year,	$4 00
" six months,	3 00
In Weekly Paper, one year,	6 00
" six months,	5 00

These rates will not affect any other description of advertising, having reference solely to BUSINESS CARDS. The rates, heretofore, have been $15 00 for the Daily, and $10 00 for the Weekly paper; and we hope this liberal reduction will be met by a corresponding patronage.

The circulation of the Daily American is equal to any of the Dailies of this city--(although but just established among them)—and our Weekly, the Saturday Evening Visiter, equal at least to that of both of the Weeklies, in this city, issued from daily offices.—The fame of the Visiter has been long established, and it has been our endeavor to have it sustained.

J. W. BIDDLE,
Editor and Proprietor.

Pittsburgh, May 22, 1841.

☞ There were Ninety arrivals at the Exchange Hotel, yesterday.

The Antimasonic County Convention will meet at the old Court House, in the Diamond, instead of at the new Court House, which is yet unprepared with the necessary accommodations.

A man was arrested in New York, a few days since, for stealing money. The only circumstance that excited suspicion against him, was his having been seen to pay a debt. He was convicted.

In the case of the U. S. vs. Braddee, the testimony on the part of the defence closed yesterday. The prosecution will this day examine some witnesses, in regard to the character of some of those sworn on the part of the Government. This closes the testimony on both sides—there can be no further motive for concealment or secresy; and we continue the publication of the testimony. Any number of extra copies can be had at this office.

We have one honest confession to make to the people. It may as well be done now, as at another time.—It had better be done now, than when we shall be forced to do it. It is this—That our hopes of reform, so strongly contended for, and promised to the people, by the election of Gen. Harrison, died with that honest patriot. If such appointments as that of Robert M. Riddle are to be made, and we see not why they will not—we say we have lost our labor. The party placed in power, by this lamentable event, which has cast a gloom over the whole nation, is no longer under the influence of his pure and upright spirit. The shuffling policy of mere politicians, is now to be consulted—their interest consulted—their influence estimated, and the wishes of the people, as heretofore, disregarded.

We have, therefore, before us another fight, and another struggle, and the party political hacks made to give way to some man, like Gen. Harrison, fresh from the people.

The St. Louis Pennant and Native American contains a detailed account of the trial of Benjamin Ames, for the murder of Daniel Brady, in an affray on the race course. Verdict—guilty of manslaughter in the fourth degree.

A German, of the name of Wetsler, residing in the Fifth Ward, came home last night, drunk, and commenced beating his wife with the poker. Some of his neighbors came in, attracted by the wife's cries, one of whom, named Wackenfildt, the brutal husband stabbed with a knife so dangerously that no hopes are entertained of his recovery. Wetsler is secured.

Origin of the late Masonic Whig Harrison Democratic Dravo Meeting.—Mr. Thomas Williams thinks his abilities are far underrated, and says that he is a greater man than Mr. Biddle or Mr. Forward, but that it has not been his good fortune, as yet, to get puffed—that he has now served in inferior capacities long enough, and if he is not sent to Congress, he will retire to the bar. He intimated some thing like this in his speech, on last Saturday night. He had brought the party he said into its present triumphant state. He had raised the great 3,000 in Allegheny, which was glory, he thought, enough—one that he was proud to leave his children. And that the speech he was then perpetrating would be about his last, unless he was sent to Congress. This latter part was to be imagined, not expressed. Well, how is he to get to Congress: so great a man ought to be employed. Denounced by the Antimasons for betraying Denny, and by the Whigs for betraying Forward, he can look for slim support in Allegheny. But we are to have a new districting for Congress this year, and Beaver is to be thrown into a district with Allegheny, for two members; and his support, last winter, of Charley Penrose, was a purchase of the interest of Dickey in Beaver County; and thus a seat is to be secured for the 'greater man than either Biddle or Forward;' and so great a man no longer can be kept in the back ground. What says Beaver? Allegheny will have one man—that man can never be Williams. She will then, give both to Allegheny—just to oblige the greatest man they have! Well, that 's clever in Mr. Dickey, who has no doubt made the bargain, and Beaver belongs to him as a feoff.

There is another cause for the origin of the abortion of Saturday night, at 8 o'clock. Unable to make any thing out of the 'blind leader' of the baby's sheet—the 'Democratic Harrison Whig party' have hired for a sub-editor, for the manufactory of editorials, a certain Parker Andrews, (an open and avowed Loco Foco, and acting there a part for the benefit of his friends,) has concocted the present arrangement with Mr. Williams. The editorials are partly written by Mr. Williams—partly by Mr. Andrews. The resolutions by Mr. Williams and Andrews, and the speech by Mr. Williams. There, now, you have a bill of the play.

FIRE IN NEW YORK.—By an extra from Bennett's Herald office, we learn that the National Theatre, of that city, was burnt to the ground, on the morning of Saturday last. All the ward robe of Mr. Burton is destroyed, and those lodging in the building had scarce time to make their escape. It was the work of incendiaries.

Well, Stench would drive us that is a fact; and we are willing to admit it to be both the readiest at hand, and the most offensive weapon they have. They are strong that way, we know—but we shall endeavor to resist them 'Thirty thousand,' Stench and all, as we may.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.

THURSDAY MORNING, May 20.

Present, Hon. Judges Baldwin and Irwin.

The court said they viewed with regret the publication of testimony on the trial then before them, which was calculated to interfere with the trial, making the order of the court, in relation to keeping the witnesses for the prosecution out of the court room, a mere nullity, as they could procure a report of the testimony in the newspapers of the day.

The court is prohibited by an act of Congress from interfering with or controling the public press, nor is it their desire so to do—all that is in their power, is to refuse such facilities as their own room afforded for taking notes of the testimony to all newspaper reporters, unless the publishers would pledge themselves not to publish the proceedings until the cause had been decided. Although their hands had been tied by an act of Congress, they had still control over their own room, and they would do this.

Daniel H. Philips, recalled.—There is a large quantity of ashes in and about Dr. Braddee's yard. He has a large and vicious dog, which bit me once. The privy is about a foot from the fence, and the pig pen touches the northern end of it. In April, 1840, Fayette street was extended through part of Dr. Braddee's lot—the old privy was torn away, and the place filled up with ashes and tan bark, nearly level with the surface.

Cross Examined.—I am positive there were no boards off the fence back of the privy, at the time of the search; but there was a space, near the fence and privy, of about a foot, where a man could get through. There was a coal hole in the fence. There was no carriage or lumber near the fence, on Stockton's side.

Direct, resumed.—It is difficult to get in, without climbing over the pig pen, which is almost as high as the fence.

John F. Backus, sworn.—Braddee said his dog was so cross that no body could come into his yard after night.

H. H. Beeson, sworn.—We fastened the dog up the night of the arrest. Saw only one person besides the guard in the house.

Frederick Byerly, affirmed.—I have seen Braddee and Corman together often, during last fall and winter, in various places. There were numerous store and stage robberies in our region, and the town Council appointed a committee, consisting of J. B. Allen, Howell Philips, and myself, to discover the perpetrators. We suspected Dr. Braddee, from the number of suspicious characters continually hvoering about his house. There has been an attempt to break into a store, while Braddee was in prison.

Mr. Forward stated his absence had been occasiond by his illness, and (that his client might not suffer thereby) he had procured Mr. McCandless to assist in his place.

John Keffert, clerk of Mr. Stockton's stage office, sworn.—In the latter end of November last, I was in Dr. Braddee's shop. Corman had come in that night from Washington, and had been thrown off the stage; Dr. Braddee inquired if he was much injured, and I told him he was not. He then said he was as good as any driver on the road; that he did not receive enough wages, and that his clothing was not sufficient for the weather. There were no mails or baggage stolen after Braddee's arrest; but I heard that the straps were cut that night.

Sarah McLean, sworn.—Went to live with Dr. Braddee in Nov. last, and remained about eight weeks. Have often seen Corman alone with Dr. B., in his bed room, which is also used as a common sitting room. He said Corman was getting medicine from him.

Joseph Philips, sworn.—Often pass Dr. Braddee's shop, and have frequently seen him conversing with Corman.

Peter Mill Strayer, sworn.—During Nov. or Dec. last, I walked through Braddee's front shop to the back one, and heard him say to Corman, 'I like to got ketched gittin that last mail!' They were outside of the back door of the back shop, and I was in it. He then said: 'I had to take two throws before I got it over the fence!' That was all they said then. The next day I got a letter from my brother, in Ohio, asking me to go there and start a saddler shop. I told Braddee of it, and asked him to let me have some money to go there. He replied: 'Don't be in a hurry—I've made a raise!' How? 'From Corman.' Did you get a mail from him? 'Yes—you needn't be in a hurry—you'll be a rich man!'

A few days after, Braddee came through the shop where I was. I asked him: What kind of a note is that in your hand? 'A Treasury note.' It had red curls on the back, and was about a foot long, and three or four inches broad, partly opened out. I could see '50' on it, and I thought there was a '1' before it. It was either a $50 or $150 note.

The arrangement between us three was that the last robbery was to be just after the new President took his seat, when we expected there would be a large quantity of government money in the mails, and could make a great raise. Corman was then to throw off the big mail. This was arranged before the time I got my brother's letter.

At one time, Braddee said he could hide the bags in his privy. But, says I, suppose you're 'suspicioned,' and they search there and find them? 'I'd say some one else put them there, to put it on me!' You'd have to prove that! 'I have men that could swear me out of it! I can make them two boys put coal ashes over them.' Suppose some one sees them, what will you do? 'I'll tell them it's to prevent the smell.'

He once said: 'It makes my knife laugh to get on the top of a mail bag.' He told me he could make oil cloth that would preserve money that was buried in it, for years. We had a great deal of conversation. Corman was there 'steady,' and when he wasn't, Braddee would ask Pinnell or me, 'has Corman come up yet?'

Cross examined—I have had conversation with Corman since he was in jail. We can hear through the pipes distinctly, when the water is out. Braddee told us mail bags could be stolen and never found out. Corman never said he was to get a share—he told me he had a dispute with Braddee about getting an equal share, but did not get it.—I think the bargain was that Corman was to throw out all the bags but one, and drive with it to the yard, but he never told me that he had done so.

I do not know, nor have I been told, what Corman has testified; I have not conversed with him for two days. He would never tell me what he was going to testify; but said "he was sorry he had told on me, as my father was very old, and on account of my relations, and because I was not guilty, and had been brought into it innocently by Braddee—I had better turn, and give evidence against the Dr." I told him I had noneto give. This was all the conversation we had through the pipes.

I was never promised to be let off, if I testified, and do not know what they'll do with me. I never received any assurances that I would get off; but, of course, I hope to.

I never heard Corman say whether he had got any share of the money, and never heard of a crock of money being concealed in a tan yard, or elsewhere.

I determined to give testimony last time I saw W. Austin, and when he withdrew as my counsel.

(Mr. W. Austin explained that his father, his brother, himself, and Mr. Wells, were originally concerned as counsel for Braddee, Pinnell, and Strayer; that Strayer's sister spoke to Mr. Hampton, who persuaded him to give evidence, when (considering that his duty as counsel for Dr. Braddee required it,) he declined acting any longer as counsel for Strayer.)

I thought if I told the truth, I would get a very light sentence. Never saw Corman throw off all the bags but one—he said he had thrown three off on the other coach, and brought the other to Braddee. I did not know whether I would be prosecuted. Mr. Hampton asked me, if I would take his advice and give testimony? I said I would not give him an answer till I had seen Wm. Austin. Mr. Austin did not recommend me to turn. Mr. Hampton did not say what the consequence would be, or make me any promises. After I had consented, he said 'he would see the United States Attorney, and if he didn't tell, after promising, he'd be in a pretty pickle.' He previously told me he did not like to force me to tell, and I replied that he could not force me, nor scare me. He did not urge me, but said it would be my best plan. I saw Hampton after Austin had left, and told him that, as Austin had not satisfied me, I would take his advice. He then went away, and next time he came in company with Mr. Darragh, the United States District Attorney, who asked me to state all I knew about it, which I did. I do not remember what he said about the prosecution against me. This was on last Monday morning. I asked him how many bills were found against me?

I think he replied—one bill with two writs, (counts.) He did not say, I need be under no apprehension, or that I should soon be out.

M'Cune told me that Dr. Kennedy said, if I told he would not indict me. Mr. Shaler, the U. S. Attorney, and the Marshal came to see me, but made me no promises. No one told me I would be let off. I have been prosecuted. I had heard of Mr. Darragh before, and knew that he was the U. S. Attorney. My sister spoke to Mr. Hampton.

I never said I knew nothing of Braddee having any thing to do with it. I said I knew nothing of it, and that if Braddee did it, I did not know—and you (Mr. Austin) would have said the same, if you'd been in my place. I heard from numerous persons that Dr. Braddee was going to undermine me; so I thought if I had togo to the Penitentiary, he should go along, if the truth could send him there. My sister and cousin told me so; and Mr. Hampton told me he suspected it was the case. I knew all I was guilty of, and any thing more he could say against me was false.

I have seen Corman get medicine—he was in bad health.

Direct.—Hampton said he'd tell Darragh, and I must not tell him so, unless I would tell it. He told me to tell nothing but the truth, and that neither Mr. Darragh nor the U. S. desired Dr. Braddee's conviction, unless he was guilty. I said, if I told any thing it would be the truth.

F. H. Turk, of N. Y. Post Office, recalled by defence. I kept no account of those particular mails, they were included in the general mail from the South.

Court Adjourned.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

Amos Jolliff, sworn.—Have been acquainted with Dr. Braddee for 4 or 5 years. About the first of March, after Dr. B. was released on bail, one of my neighbors, Mr. Costello, called on me to take a ride to Uniontown, to see him about a payment due him on April last. I went with him; he asked Dr. B. about it, and was told he need not be alarmed; he would be ready at the time, provided he would take his money under the circumstances, and they talk about it; he might return to Morgantown, and ask council of his friends whether it would be safe. Dr. B. also said he had a suit at Morgantown, and would be up there about the time it was due, and pay it.

We both returned, and about April last, Costello told me the Doctor had not come yet, and wanted to employ me to go and see whether he was ready to pay it, which I did. I told the Doctor that Costello had sent me for the money, as he wanted it. We took a walk, and then went in the house, where Mrs. Braddee and her mother (Mrs. Collins) were. He mentioned that I had come after Mr. Costello's money, and they would have to make arrangements and let me have it, as he was busy in the shop, and they must pick out the best money they could, as he had promised par or Eastern funds. We then went to the shop, and Mrs. Collins said——[Here the Court told the witness he must not give conversations of others.] She then paid me about $1,400 or $1,500. They asked the Doctor how much they would give me, but I did not hear his answer. They said he told them to send enough, and Mr. C. could pay himself with the best, and return the balance. I think the note to Costello was only for $1,000. After I got it, I did not speak to Dr. B., but took it directly to Costello. I got no receipt from him, nor did I give one to Dr. Braddee. I told Costello what Braddee said. He told me, before I got the money, to take it to Costello, and he would be up in a few days and fix it. I have heard that Mrs. Braddee some times takes care of money, when the Doctor is on a spree. I am her cousin. Have received money from her before. On Saturday evening, about the middle of March, Doctor Braddee came to Morgantown, in a sleigh, and when there, the snow left them. On Monday morning, I was in town, and found the Dr. on a spree. He had borrowed a horse in Uniontown, and promised to return him on Monday, and offered $10 to any one who would take the horse home, and bring Mrs. B.'s back. When I was getting on the horse, Mrs. B. said——(Stopped by the Court.) I went to Dr. Braddee's with the horse.

(The prosecution offered to prove that Mrs. Collins gave the witness some money, which was objected to, and withdrawn.)

I reside four miles from Morgantown, Va., and Mr. Costello resides 1½ miles from same place.

Cross Examined.—Can't say which gave me the money.

Samuel Costello, of Evansville, Va., sworn.—I went to see if Doctor Braddee could pay what was due on April 1st. He said I might take it with me, if I wished; but I concluded to return and ask the advice of my neighbors, whether it was proper to receive his money. They told me to take it, as he justly owed it. When it was due, I was moving, wanted money, sent Jolliff for it, and he brought it to me. I saw Braddee at the April Court, in Morgantown, who said he would rather I would not pass the money there: it would raise a disturbance, if any of his money was circulated there, as the news would be in Uniontown in less than a day. I said I would pass it in Evansburgh, and he did not object. Evansburgh is 25 miles S. E. from Morgantown. The money was $1395—$1035 in good money, and $300 in worthless Mississippi money, which I returned to Mr. Jolliff. I used a part of the good money, and gave Mr. Wagner, Cashier of the Morgantown Bank, the balance of it, last Saturday.

Cross Examined.—There was over $1,400 due me from Dr. Braddee, on two notes, $1,166 with one year's interest, was due on April 1st. He said he wished to pay it off, and not pay any more interest.

Wm. Wagner, Cashier of Morgantown Bank, sworn.—Mr. Costello paid me, on Friday 21, $1,100, in the Morgantown Bank. (Here he produced the money.)

E. P. Van Alston, recalled.—We lost four letters, on the following dates:

Nov. 6, 1840,	$1,166 in notes, $606,92 cents in drafts.
Nov. 16, "	$4,000 over,	in drafts, notes
" 23, "	940 about	and certificates
Dec. 10, "	1,005	of deposit.

The witness compared the money paid Mr. Costello, with the notes entered in his memorandum book, and identified six of the notes.

Three fifty dollar notes agree precisely with my memorandum. The first of the other notes had the first figure of the number changed from a 7 to a 9—as can plainly be seen. The second has had 'Feb.' partially erased, and 'Nov.' written instead, in a rough manner, and different handwriting from the body of the note; there is also a figure 1 added to the number. The third has the last figure in the number neatly altered from a 3 to a 0.—All these are visible in the note.

Cross Examined.—I saw some of these notes before, at the Exchange, in possession of Mr. Wagner and Dr. Howard Kennedy, but not all.

Lewis Delaplaine, recalled.—These are the description of bags, locks, and labels sent from Wheeling Post Office. I have known mails belonging to other routes get wrong. Sometimes, when we are scarce of the proper mail bags, we take others, and put wood or paper labels on them.

From the Pittsburgh Gazette.

Our readers all recollect, that in January, 1833, a committee was appointed to investigate the Swartwout and other defalcations.

At the head of that Committee was that 'gallant whig' Henry A. Wise; Curtis, the present Collector at New York; Harlan, of Kentucky; Dawson of Georgia, all good whigs, were members, besides several Loco Focos.

They spent several weeks in a laborious investigation of the Swartwout defalcation, and other matters at that city. At length they made a most elaborate report. From that report we have made an extract, which our readers will find annexed. Our extract is taken from the 'first cause' of the defalcation of Mr. Swartwout.

We defy the most ingenious man on earth to point out any, (except one,) difference between the case of Swartwout, when he was appointed, and that of Riddle. The exception is this—Swartwout, so far as we know, speculated with his own money, Mr. Riddle with that of his partners.

It is remarkable, indeed, that both these patriots dealt in the same fancy stock—Delaware and Hudson Canal.

The Committee use the following strong language in favor of an essential reform in the character of office holders:

'Guided solely by the character of the developements which the investigation imposed upon them by the House has elicited, the committee cannot resist the conviction, that at no period in the history of the Federal Government has there been deeper or better founded cause than exists at the present moment, for every patriot heart to desire a prompt consummation of that signal 'task of reform,' which public sentiment, many years since, inscribed on the list of Executive duties, in characters too legible to be overlooked,' requiring, 'particularly, the correction of those abuses that have brought the patronage of the Federal Government into conflict with the freedom of elections, and the counteraction of those causes which have disturbed the rightful course of appointment, and have placed or continued power in unfaithful or incompetent hands.''

If naked official station be thus pregnant with temptations unfavorable to the faithful discharge of public duties, how alarmingly accumulative these temptations become when they are superadded to official station, the temptations which flow from the collection, keeping, and disbursement of vast sums of money, drawn directly from, yet, for the most part always kept and used beyond the sight of the people.

If there be any thing that can add to the evils of the known temptations inseparable from the power of official station and public revenue combined to demoralize the government of a people, to impoverish their public Treasury, and to infuse into them a lust for 'the spoils' of political servility and cunning, in preference to the rewards attendant upon the pursuits of honest and honorable industry, it is to be found in the appointment to official stations of high pecuniary obligations, of men notoriously irresponsible, and whose lives have proved them incompetent to save for themselves; as sure as effect must follow cause, so sure will the temptations already spoken of prove too successful in the pillage of the public treasury, when brought to bear, by executive patronage, upon any man, or class of men already excited by the habitual indulgence of venturesome speculations, and by the alternate hopes and disappointments, successes, and embarrassments, incident to such speculations.

Of this class of men, and such a man, was Mr. Swartwout, in reputation and in fact, both at the time of his original appointment to the collectorship, in 1829, and of his reappointment, in 1834. He was wholly irresponsible in pecuniary reputation, notoriously prone to hazardous speculations, deeply embarrassed from them, and always in want of funds. The committee, therefore, regard this as one of the primary causes of Mr. Swartwout's defalcations, and of the consequent loss of the public money which was intrusted to his collection and keeping.

The trial of Madison, the negro, for the murder and arson on the night of the 17th, is set for to day. We understand that he maintains his firmness and indifference, still persisting that he knows nothing about it. Warrick and Seward evince considerable apprehensions. Brown is but little disturbed.

In relation to these trials, there is one remark which we think proper to present to every man's reflection. Let the trials be fair; and the character of the Court, and the reputation of the counsel assigned for the defence are sufficent guarantees that they will be so. If the evidence convicts them, the law, all may rest assured, will be executed to the letter, if a jury, upon hearing all the facts, acquits, as good citizens and law abiding men, let their decision be sustained by the community. We are induced to make these remarks, thus early, that all may consider of it in time, and prepare themselves, as becomes good citizens, to rally round the acts of the law's constituted officers, and support them with their council; and, if needs be, with their person and their strength. In a republic, when the people make the laws, they should ever be the last to see them trampled under foot. The law can only be supreme or respected when the acts of its constituted agents are upheld and their decisions acquiesed in.—St. Louis Republican, May 24.

Extraordinary Hail Storm.—On the 4th instant, a singular hail storm visited Monmouth, Ill. About 3 o'clock, P. M., it came over the town, from west to east, breaking nearly all the window glass in the western side of the houses—it then returned from east to west, and finished the windows on the eastern side—then hauling round south, it came on with renewed force, and demolished the glass on the southern side. There was not half glass enough in the town to fill the shattered windows, some thousands of lights being broken. The hail lay on the ground two inches in depth—trees were stripped of their foliage as bare as in January.—Balt. Sun.

IMPROVEMENTS OF THE OHIO.

The magnitude and importance of the Ohio, as a commercial and national thoroughfare, demand that adequate means be furnished to perfect its navigation. The present condition of the works already commenced on this river, exhibits a gloomy picture indeed of the errors and follies of bad legislation, and furnishes melancholy evidence of the gross and criminal neglect with which some of the great interests of the nation have been treated by those having them in charge.

All the operations in progress for improving the navigation of the Ohio above the falls, were suspended in 1839. The report of the Engineer, dated in October of that year, states that some of the works were necessarily suspended, and left in a hazardous condition in consequence of the limited appropriations of the previous year. In the same report he speaks of the advantage that would result from the completion of the works commenced, as also of others in contemplation, and urges the importance of making the requisite appropriations. Attached to this report is an estimate of the necessary funds, from which we have prepared the following condensed statement:

1st sec. fm. Pitts. to Wheeling, 90m.		$103,000
2d "	Wheel. to Letart flls, 144m.	126,000
3d "	Letart to Guyandotte, 66m.	20,000
4th "	Guy'ite to Portsmouth, 50m.	10,000
5th "	Portsmth to Cinna. 105m.	20,000
6th "	Cinna. to Louisville, 150m.	15,000

The following are the items of his estimate for the 2d section; or from Wheeling to Letart Falls:

Improvements at McMahon's bar,	$3,000
Captina Island,	500
Fish Creek,	10,000
Fishing Creek Bar,	10,000
Whiton's Tow Head,	2,000
Wells' Island,	4,000
Mile Creek Island,	4,000
Grandview Shoals,	4,500
Shiftail Ripple,	4,000
Petticoat Ripple,	10,000
Middle Island,	3,000
Ball's Creek bar,	5,000
Carpenter's bar,	5,000
Marietta Island,	10,000
Blannerhasset's Island,	13,000
Newberry bar,	5,000
Belleville Island,	2,000
Swan's bar,	3,000
Buffington's Island,	2,000
Sand Creek bar,	3,000
Goose Island,	2,000
Letart Island and falls,	3,000
Total for section 2d,	$126,000

At some of these points the works were then far advanced, and only small appropriations were necessary to complete them. At Captina Island, for instance, the dam, which is across a very narrow and shoal channel, was nearly complete, requiring but $5,000 to finish it. There had been put into it 3374 perches of stone, at $1 25 a perch, and 700 perches more, or enough to complete it, were got out, and left in the quarry. In this state of the improvement appropriations were withheld, and thus the safety of the whole work hazarded. Much expense had been incurred also in building steam snag boats, steam tow boats, hand machine boats, scows, &c., with suitable machinery for removing snags and other obstructions, and deepening channels. During the very season in which the works were suspended, the cost of repairs to the boat and machinery in anticipation of their being worked exceeded $90,000.

But appropriations were withheld, and the progress of every thing connected with the improvements at once stopped. Shops and shantees that had been built for the laborers went to destruction, the timber prepared for the frame work of dams, &c. was left to rot, and now, within a few months, the boats, machinery, &c., &c., have been sold for less than a song. At many points along the river great and useful improvements were commenced, but by neglecting to carry them on to completion, the money expended is lost, and in some cases the navigation left more obstructed than before any outlay was made.

This may not be the best time to urge upon Congress the importance of resuming these works, but so soon as business returns to its accustomed channels, and prosperity again smiles upon the nation, it should be presented to that body in such a manner as to command that attention which its importance merits. In a matter of so manifest utility and necessity as this, one of such vital interest to this great and rich valley, the people with one voice, will insist upon its advancement and completion at the earliest possible period.—Marietta Intel.

Departed this life, on the 27th May, ult., near Chambersburgh, Pa., the amiable and much esteemed Mrs. Elizabeth, consort of Leonard S. Johns, Esq., of this city.

The following came to us, yesterday, in the Baltimore Phœnix and Budget. It is from the 'Struggles of Early Genius.' Under the head of Lynn, we find 'vamped' up the following account:

The very pleasant and thriving town of Lynn is the Paradise of shoemakers! Its young men, early transferred from the cradle to the last, cut teeth and leather in the same time; and its pretty maidens learn to bind shoes with the induction of their a, b, abs! Lovers exchange hearts over a kid-slipper, and swear eternal fidelity upon a lap-stone. If they would get married they ask old Dr Waxend, the parson, if he will stitch them together, and they pay him in hides and shoe mending. Whipping their children they call tanning, and the rod they use is a cowhide. The little boys swear 'by hides and leather!' and play at games which they call 'high and low quarter,' and 'heel and toe.' A child newly born is a lap-stone, and the ages of children are known by the number of the shoe they wear. Boys are called rights and girls lefts; an old maid is an 'odd slipper,' and a bachelor an 'odd boot.' The street door to their dwellings are 'insteps,' and a man in an overcoat is 'foxed.' The fields about the town are 'patches,' and a fellow half-seas-over is over 'half-soled.' They never see an oak tree, but they directly calculate the number of pegs it will make, and when they behold bees at work, they reflect that the only end of wax is a wax end. They look on all cattle and sheep as only leather growing, and believe hogs were only made to produce bristles. Its lap-stones would pave Broadway, and its lasts, if piled together, would make a monument higher than that to be on Bunker's Hill.—INGRAHAM.

A Drunkard's Asylum.—The Washington Temperance Society of Boston have issued a circular, calling on the friends of humanity and of temperance, for aid to build an asylum for the poor drunkard, where he may receive such assistance and advice as will enable him to pursue, after he leaves it, an honest and a sober course of life.—*Balt. A NATURAL REMEDY,

Suited to our Constitutions, and competent to the cure of every curable disease, will be found in the

THE INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS,

OF THE

NORTH AMERICAN COLLEGE OF HEALTH.

These extraordinary PILLS are composed of Plants which grow spontaneously on our own soil, and, therefore, are far better adapted to our constitutions, than medicines concocted from foreign drugs, however well they may be compounded; and as the

THE INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS

Are founded upon the principle that the human body is

SUBJECT TO BUT ONE DISEASE:

Viz: Corrupt Humors, and that said Medicine cures this disease on

NATURAL PRINCIPLES:

By cleansing and purifying the body. It will be manifest, that if the constitution be not entirely exhausted, a perseverance in their use, according to directions, is absolutely certain to drive disease of every name from the body.

When we wish to restore a Swamp or Morass to fertility, we drain it of the superabundant waters. In like manner, if we wish to restore the body to health, we must cleanse it of impurity.

THE INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS

Will be found one of the best, if not the very best, medicine in the world for carrying out this

GRAND PURIFYING PRINCIPLE,

Because they expel from the body all morbid and corrupt humors—the cause of disease—in an easy and natural manner; and, while they every day

GIVE EASE AND PLEASURE,

Disease of every name is rapidly driven from the body.

The above named Indian Vegetable Pills have been three years before the American public; and we can now say, without fear of contradiction, that of all the various medicines which have heretofore been popular, not one has given such universal satisfaction, or obtained such a permanent hold upon the affections of the people. Not only do all who use it, invariably experience relief, and recommend it in the strongest terms; but it has effected some of the most astonishing cures ever performed by medicine.

Hitherto, very few of the numerous testimonials, which have been received in favor of this extraordinary medicine, have been published, as the medicine obtained its present great celebrity more by its own intrinsic goodness, than from extensive adver ising. It has been deemed proper, however, to offer the following opinions of the public press, together with a few extracts from letters of Agents, merely to show that the fame of the Indian Vegetable Pills is not confined to any one section, but is rapidly extending itself to every part of the Union.

From the Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

THE INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS.

Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills are attaining great celebrity in New England, as well as other parts of the United States. The attempt of persons to defraud the public, by the sale of spurious articles, meets with general reprobation. Mr. Wright is an indefatigable business man, and shows an array of cures by the medicine which warrant confidence in the virtues of his Indian Vegetable Pills.

From the Philadelphia Spirit of the Times.

THE INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS.

People are pretty well satisfied by this time, that Calomel, and the other thousand and one mineral preparations of the shops, are better adapted, as a general rule, to kill rather than cure the patient; as a matter of course, vegetable medicines are therefore in great request. There are very many humbugs, however, among the latter, and we would advise all those who have the least regard for their health, to try the

THE INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS,

Of the North American College of Health,

sold at 169, Race Street, Philadelphia; as they are the preparation of one intimately acquainted with the healing art.

From the Boston Times.

THE INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS.

Of all the public advertised medicines of the day, we know of none that we can more safely recommend for the "ills that flesh is heir to," than the Pills that are sold at the depot of the North American College of Health, No. 198, Tremont Street, Boston. Several instances we know of, where they are used in families with the highest satisfaction; and no longer ago than yesterday, we heard an eminent Physician of the city recommend them in high terms. There used to be in the community a great repugnance to the use of QUACK medicines, as they are all indiscriminately termed; but it was mainly owing to the M. D.'s constantly denouncing them. They are, however, becoming more liberal in this respect, and the consequence is, that good vegetable medicines are more extensively used than formerly.

Extract of a letter from Peter Christ, Uniontown, Carroll County, Md., Nov. 17th, 1838.

Dear Sir—About two months ago, I had business in Baltimore, and called at your office, and bought a few boxes of the Indian Vegetable Pills; and upon trying them, I found them to be far superior to —— Pills, or any other medicine I had ever used. I had been subject to a cough for five years past, and during the time have taken a variety of medicines, without any relief, until I got the Indian Vegetable Pills, and by taking four doses, the cough began to leave me; and I now enjoy better health than I have done for five years past. After I found them to be a valuable medicine, I immediately sent to Baltimore for a large supply. I have received so much benefit in using the Indian Vegetable Pills, that I cannot but recommend them to every invalid I see, and think so well of the medicine, that I have sent two dozen boxes to my invalid friends, in the State of Indiana. Signed, PETER CHRIST.

From G. C. Black, New York.

Mr. Wm. Wright—Dear Sir—You will please to forward, as soon as possible, some of your Indian Vegetable Pills; as we are almost out of the article, and they appear to be getting into general use here. We have a great call for the medicine at present, and those that have used them, speak very highly of them. One gentleman attributes his being CURED of DROPSY to the use of them; and another has been cured of DYSPEPSIA, solely by the use of your Indian Vegetable Pills, and is willing you should publish his case, if you think proper. G. C. BLACK,

No. 1, Chatham Square, New York.

Extract of a letter from Mr. A. Larrimore, Ind.

Doctor Wright—Dear Sir—Having some knowledge of your most excellent compound, the Indian Vegetable Pills, and not knowing how to get a fresh supply, my stock being nearly exhausted, and wishing to always have them in my family, I take this method to open a correspondence with you. The Pills alluded to are well thought of here and much wanted. I wish to make arrangements with you for a constant supply, as I think a very great quantity could be sold in this section of the country.

Extract of a letter from Samuel Griffith, Stewarttown, York County, Pa.

Mr. W. Wright—Dear Sir—I am selling the Indian Vegetable Pills by the dollars' worth, and at that rate, the stock of Pills, left by your traveling agent, will soon be out.

I am pleased to find they are such ready sale. Those who have used them speak in the highest terms of them. Many have already found great relief from their use, and when the cures are finally effected, I shall do you the justice to inform you of the same.

Extract of a letter from Washington City.

Mr. Wm. Wright—Dear Sir—You will have the kindness to forward me, as soon as possible, two or three gross of the Indian Vegetable Pills. The sales have, for the last two months, increased rapidly; those who buy, generally remarking, 'that they are the best Pills they have ever used;' and my opinion is, that they will, in a short time, supersede all others in the city.

ROBERT FARNHAM,

Washington City, D. C.

Extract of a letter from Lycoming County, Pa.

Mr. Wm. Wright—Dear Sir—On being appointed agent for the sale of the Indian Vegetable Pills in this place, we only took one gross on trial, but it would have been better if we had taken a half dozen gross; for, on a fair trial, they have far exceeded our most sanguine expectations. In fact, so much so, that we have been obliged to send to Mr. Zimmerman, at Lancaster, more than a hundred miles from here, for ten dozen; but these will last but a very short time, the way we are selling them since they have been fairly tested. In the first place, I gave some to our Physicians, to make trial of—since which, they have purchased a number of boxes, and highly approve of them. A few days ago, there was a lady sent 30 miles to get a box of the Pills. She, at the time, was very low, and unable to turn herself in bed; but, in 2 days, my informant says, she was able to help herself.

We could mention many other cases, but deem it unnecessary at this time; but would merely say, that, as the season is fast approaching, when there will be a great demand for the Indian Vegetable Pills; and if we could get a supply of the medicine, we could establish other agents, which would be of immense advantage, not only to the North American College of Health; but to the public generally. Please let us know your views on the subject, and any directions relative to the same will be promptly attended to, by

EXCHANGE HOTEL,

PITTSBURGH, PA.

M'Kibbin & Smith, Proprietors.

This HOTEL, on the corner of Penn and St. Clair Streets, combines advantages of location, and convenience inferior to none. It is situated most centrally for the business of the city—midway between the principal canal and steam boat landings.

The junior proprietor of the Exchange (H. M SMITH) has been known in connexion with the house, AS ITS MANAGER, SINCE THE SUMMER OF 1835.

It is deemed unnecessary to speak particularly of its internal arrangements; but the public may be assured, that every effort will be made by the proprietors to merit a continuance of the patronage that has been so liberally extended to them during the past year.

N. B. Stage and Packet Offices are connected with the Hotel; and an Omnibus to carry passengers to and from the house—free of charge.

MERCHANT'S HOTEL,

PHILADELPHIA.

THIS Establishment being situated in North 4th Street, near Market, and surrounded by the principal business houses of the city, affording, also, from its construction, all the convenience and comfort required by business men, or those traveling for pleasure, the proprietors solicit a continuance of the patronage they have hitherto received.

Their charges, at the Gentlemen's Ordinary, being but $1,50 per day, and, having no "Stool Pigeons" to encourage the consumption of wine—no traveling agents to puff "our establishment," at the expense of our neighbors—no boot blacks, porters, or other "sundries," to increase the daily charges; but have all the facilities for business, without the unnecessary incumbrances, and all the comforts, without the inconveniences attached to the most fashionable house.

The Ladies' Ordinary is not surpassed by any in the country; and the chambers being large and airy, and kept in the most perfect order, the proprietors offer all the attentions that may be required by their guests.

DR. SWAYNE'S

Compound Syrup of Prunus Virginiana,

OR WILD CHERRY;

For Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Spitting of Blood, Soreness of Throat, Whooping Cough, and all Diseases Indicative of CONSUMPTION.

☞THAT Awful Destroyer of Human Life, unless arrested, called Consumption, is completely conquered by the timely use of this celebrated Medicine. Thousands and tens of thousands find an untimely grave, by sheer neglect, or by dallying with some ineffectual nostrum. The evidence in favor of this preparation of Wild Cherry, in pectoral diseases, is undeniable.

No one, heretofore, has ever been so successful in extracting the extraordinary virtues of this tree. Happy would it be for those who are afflicted with a Distressing Cough, Bronchitis, Difficult Expectoration, or Raising of Phlegm, Hoarseness, Spitting of Blood, or other symptoms, which may likely lead into CONSUMPTION, if they would take good advice, and procure the above medicine, and use it according to directions, they would soon find the many painful hours, and distressing nights, turned into tranquil rest and sweet repose. Afflicted persons, you must be careful, and not grasp at the many inexperienced compounds which almost daily spring up like shadows, and fall; you must be led to believe, and experience will teach you, that you are building a foundation for a serious disease, if duped by such useless mixtures. Therefore, you who are afflicted with Consumption, or symptoms which indicate it, spare no time in procuring the medicine which has been tested by the most experienced physicians, and pronounced superior, and inferior to none extant. This medicine is Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, which has been in general use for many years, during which time, thousands of persons have been raised from their beds of sickness, by its use, to the enjoyment of their nearest friends, and dearest relatives. The wonderful effects of this medicine are highly substantiated, by numerous recommendations from individuals of the first respectability and society, (who are among those whose lives have been spared and prolonged,) which can be seen, if desired, by calling at the Office, No. 19, St. Clair Street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

IMPORTANT TESTIMONY.

RICHMOND, Wayne Co., Indiana, April 20, 1841.

Dear Sir—I have sold all of the Wild Cherry Syrup, and wish you would send me some more immediately. It is becoming very popular. Our citizens have heretofore been imposed upon, by some worthless nostrums, and were somewhat incredulous at first; but it is now coming into general use.

Please consign to E. Morgan & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio. Yours, respectfully,

D. P. HOLLOWAY.

SHELBYVILLE, Ky., August, 1840.

Dear Sir—The supply of Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry forwarded to us is disposed of. The greatest good has been experienced from its use, in cases almost hopeless. We shall be pleased, if you forward another supply immediately.

IMPORTANT TO THE SICK!

☞Just received, a large supply of DR. SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF PRUNUS VIRGINIUS, or WILD CHERRY. The undersigned are the only agents in Allegheny County, for the sale of this article. As many have been disappointed, who have sent in from the country for this Syrup and have attached blame to us, we take the liberty of saying, IMPROVE THIS OPPORTUNITY; for a supply of SIX HUNDRED BOTTLES, which we received before, was sold in less than ONE WEEK. We also bear testimony, with pleasure, to the wonderful effects we have witnessed from the use of this celebrated medicine.

For Gratuitous Distribution—An interesting little pamphlet, entitled 'Moffat's Medical Manual, designed as a Domestic Guide to Health—containing accurate information concerning the most prevalent disease, and the most approved remedies—by WM. B MOFFAT.' Apply to the Agents.
Pittsburgh, oct 26—tf

MOFFAT'S LIFE PILLS, AND PHŒNIX BITTERS.—The perfectly safe, unerring, and successful treatment of almost every species of disease by the use of MOFFAT'S LIFE MEDICINES, is no longer a matter of doubt, as a reference to the experience of many thousand patients will satisfactorily prove. During the present month, alone nearly one hundred cases have come to the knowledge of Mr. Moffat, where the patient has, to all appearance, effected a permanent cure by the exclusive and judicious use of the Life Medicines—some eight or ten of these had been considered beyond all hope by their medical attendants. Such happy results are a source of great pleasure to Mr. M. and inspire him with new confidence to recommend the use of his medicine to his fellow citizens.

The LIFE MEDICINES are a purely VEGETABLE preparation. They are mild and pleasant in their operation, and at the same time thorough—acting rapidly upon the secretions of the system—carrying off all acrimonious humors, and assimilating with and purifying the blood. For this reason, in aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, the Life Medicines will give relief in a shorter space of time than any other prescription. In Fever and Ague, Inflammatory Rheumatism, Fevers of every description, Sick Headache, Heartburn Dizziness in the head, Pains in the Chest, Flatulency, impaired appetite, and in every disease arising from an impurity of the blood, or a disordered state of the stomach the use of these Medicines has always proved to be beyond doubt, greatly superior to any other mode of treatment.

All that Mr. Moffat asks of his patients is to be particular in taking them strictly according to the directions. It is not by a newspaper notice, or by any thing that he himself may say in their favor, that he hopes to gain credit. It is alone by the results of a fair trial. Is the reader an invalid, and does he wish to knew whether the Life Medicines will suit his own case? If so, let him call or send to Mr. Moffat's agent, in this place, and procure a copy of the Medical Manual, designed as a Domestic Guide to Health, published gratuitously. He will there find enumerated very many extraordinary cases of cure; and perhaps some exactly similar to his own. Moffat's Medical Office in New York, 375 Broad Way.

TO MASTER TAILORS.

T. OLIVER, Professor and Teacher of the Art of cutting on scientific and unerring principles, begs leave respectfully to announce to the trade, that having recently arrived from London and Paris, will in future devote his attention to giving instructions in the various departments of fashionable cutting. As it would be difficult in the form of an advertisement to give such details as might be deemed necessary to a proper understanding of his principles, &c., he would respectfully refer to the various certificates which have been voluntarily presented to him by some of the leading members of the trade in the above named cities.

T. O. begs leave also to state that he has made arrangements which will enable him to ublish a semi-annual Report of the Fashions in a manner wholly different to what has ever been heretofore done in America. The information will be derived from the best sources, and the execution by the best artists; in a word, no pains or expense will be withheld, to make it the criterion for the trade.

Those persons desirous of becoming subscribers to the Report of the Fashions, are requested to give their orders immediately, as the Fall Report will be ready for delivery on or about the 1st of October next, and those wishing to purchase his improved System of Cutting, (as published in London) will please call on the author personally, or by letter, (post paid,) and the same will be sent to any part of the world, with ample explanations, to suit even the most moderate capacity.

In order to prevent imposition, T. O. deems it necessary to state, that all travelling agents will be supplied with the new work, published June 1st, 1840, with T. O.'s signature at the bottom of the frontespiece.

To those of his former patrons who wish to possess the improved addition, can be supplied with

"PARIS, Feb. 28, 1840

We, the undersigned, members of the committee appointed by the members composing the 'Philanthropic Society' of Merchant Tailors of Paris, certify that the system of Cutting taught by T. Oilver, of New York, United States, has been submitted to our examination, which system we recommend as the best that has been submitted to us.

I subjoin a certificate from Mr. Cutter, of Paris, formerly of Boston, whose reputation is well established both in Europe and in America:

MR. OLIVER—Dear Sir—The recommendation you have obtained from the Philanthropic Society of Master Tailors is from the highest source in this city.

And I fully agree in the opinion that your system is the best that has ever been published.

Yours, truly,
D. CUTTER,
Rue Richlieu, 102.

PARIS, March 4, 2840.

The committee appointed bya pubc meeing held at the Lowther Rooms, King William street, Strand, to test Mr. Oliver's Self-varying Shoulder Measure System, after several public and private experiments on its efficacy in cases of disproportions, and having induced Mr. Oliver to make some improvements, which do not at all interfere with the principles of the invention, do now most unequivocally declare, that, in their opinion, the rules laid down by Mr. Oliver are the best calculated for the purpose hitherto proposed.

In proof of this, the committee have caused coats to be cut before them, by persons who have received but one or two lessons on the system, which coats, when fitted on, have greatly surpassed their expectations.

The committee, therefore, under a sense of the importance of a good self varying system, with confidence recommend Mr. Oliver's plan as worthy the attention of the trade in general; and further, they present Mr. Oliver with this memorial, as a small tribute to his ability, and pledge themselves to assist him in perfecting his invention.

JOHN BARTHOLOMEW,
Chairman.

Presented to T. Oliver, at a public dinner given him at the Lowther Rooms, London, October 29. 1839.

FEMALE TESTIMONY
OF THE EXTRAORDINARY VIRTUES OF
Dr. Harlich's Compound Strengthening and Aperient German Pills.

DR. HARLICH—

Dear Sir—What is riches without health? How many speak this with a sigh, when they compare their situations with the poor who enjoy health—though surrounded with riches, which is not happiness. On account of bad health, there are many who are thus afflicted. It was my misfortune to be thus situated for several years. I at first caught a violent cold, which disordered both my head and my stomach, and not paying much attention to it, it soon became a serious matter My breathing became laborious and short, my appearance thin and pallid, my heart beat quick, my appetite failed, my sprits were depressed, and all my friends thought I was going into a rapid consumption. I was attended by several physicians, but to no effect. I finally gave myself up, and prepared to leave this world of misery and pain for one of everlasting bliss and happiness. About one month since, however, I was visited by a friend of mine from a distance, who, having heard of my dangerous state, had hurried to see me and bid me an everlasting farewell, thinking that I would not survive the summer. She was much struck with my altered appearance; from a blooming and healthy young girl, to a thin and pallid looking being, apparently on the very verge of the grave. After finding that all the remedies I had used had proved useless, she advised me to make trial of Dr. Harlich's Invaluable Preparation, as she knew them to perform some very extraordinary cures, and she felt confident they would relieve me. Willing to try any thing to be restored to health, I procured two packages of the Pills, and in the short space of two weeks, the effect was wonderful! My appetite returned, my bowels resumed their natural tone the hectic flush left my cheeks, and instead of a pallid countenance, my face was soon natural and healthy! my lost spirits again revived, and now I am as happy as I can possibly be in this world, and I thank my gracious Father in heaven, you on earth, for restoring me to health. I have written these few lines to you, out of thanks and gratitude for my preservation from death. You are at liberty to publish this, provided you give only the initials of my name, as female delicacy forbids my full name appearing in public print.

I remain,
Gratefully yours,
M. J. C.

MOFFAT'S VEGETABLE LIFE MEDICINES.

THESE Medicines are indebted for their name to their manifest and sensible action in purifying the springs and channels of life, and endu n them with renewed tone and vigor. In many hundred certified cases which have been made publi, and in almost every species of disease to which the human frame is liable, the happy effects of MOFFAT'S LIFE PILLS AND PHOENIX BITTERS have been gratefully and publicly acknowledged by the persons benefitted, and who were previously unacquainted with the beautifully philosophical principles upon which they are compounded, and which they consequently act.

The LIFE MEDICINES recommend themselves in diseases of every form and description. Their first peration is to loosen from the coats of the stomach and bowels, the various impurities and crudities constantly settling around them, and to remove the hardened feces which collect in the convolutions of the small intestines. Other medicines only partially cleanse these and leave such collected masses behind as to produce habitual costiveness, with all its train of evils, or sudden diarrhœa, with its imminent dangers. This fact is well known to all regular anatomists, who examine the human bowels after death; and hence the prejudice of these well informed men against quack medicines—or medicines prepared and heralded to the public by ignorant persons. The second effect of the Life Medicines is to cleanse the kidneys and the bladder, and by this means, the liver and the lungs, the healthful actions of which entirely depend upon the regularity of the urinary organs. The blood, which takes its red color from the agency of the liver and the lungs, before it passes into the heart, being thus purified by them, and nourished by food from a clean stomach, course freely through the veins, renews every part of the system, and triumphantly mounts the banner of health in the blooming cheek.

Moffat's Vegetable Life Medicines have been thoroughly tested, and pronounced a sovereign remedy for Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Palpitations of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, Heartburn and Headache, Restlessness, Ill Temper, Anxiety, Languor and Melancholy, Costiveness, Diarrheas, Cholera, Fevers of all kinds, Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsies of all kinds; Gravel, Worms, Asthma and Consumption, Scurvy, Ulcers, Inveterate Sores, Scorbutic Eruptions, and Bad Complexions, Eruptive Complaints, Sallow, Cloudy, and other disagreeable Complexions, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Common Colds and Influenza, and various other complaints which afflict the human frame. In Fever and Ague, particularly, the Life Medicines have been most eminently successful; so much so, that in the Fever and Ague Districts, Physicians almost universally prescribe them.

All that Mr. Moffat requests of his patients is to be particular in taking the Life Medicines strictly according to the directions. It is not by a news paper notice, or by any thing that he himself may say in their favor, that he hopes to gain credit. It is alone by the results of a fair trial.

MOFFAT'S MEDICAL MANUEL; designed as a domestic guide to health. This little pamphlet, edited by W. B. Moffat, 375 Broadway, New York, has been published for the purpose of explaining more fully Mr. Moffat's theory of diseases, and will be found highly interesting to persons seeking health. It treats upon prevalent diseases, and the causes thereof. Price 25 cents—for sale by Mr. Moffat's agents generally.

OF Foreign Literature, for January, received. This work is made up of the best matter in all the foreign periodicals, and contains, together with the more valuable reviews and elaborate discussions, a large supply of light reading, from the Magazines and Annuals. As a family book, this is especially recommended—young people, attracted by the Tales and Poetry, will be led to the Biography, Voyages, Travels, History, &c., which it contains. As a general review, and specimens of the literature of the day, it will be found valuable to professional men, and all who desire to keep up with the current, without too great expense of money or time.
